Look at these fine University of Memphis Journalism students! Lookin' good ya'll!

Also, check out their online news show The Conversation!

So, today on our blog we are featuring host from the University of Memphis NABJ show "The Conversation!" Go to our link to read about it and check out the show!

From The Conversation's about page:

"The Conversation is a online news-talk show about "people on the move" in Memphis and surrounding areas presented by University of Memphis' Association of Black Journalists.

This team of journalists discuss it all from light pop culture to hot button social issues. The Conversation has chat it up with individuals from the likes of authors, comedians and Apollo Legends.

The show is the first student-produced online news magazine of its kind under U of M's NABJ."

It's good stuff, check it out here!
